ASSISTER CERTIFICATION ANSWERS

1. How do I become certified?
   ANSWER: If you are an FFE Navigator/SBE-FP in a state with a Federally-facilitated Enterprise (FFE), you will receive certification after being assigned an Assister ID by your supervisor have completed the required curriculum, and have completed any additional state requirements to become certified in the FFE.

2. What is the difference between becoming Federally-facilitated Enterprise (FFE) certified and receiving a training completion certificate?
   ANSWER: For FFE Navigators, upon completing of the required curriculum in the MLMS, FFE Navigators will receive an MLMS generated certificate for completing the training. The MLMS will also validate that the user is registered with an FFE Navigator Grant Organization prior to issuing a Federal Certificate once they complete training.

   For FFE-CACs, upon completion of the required curriculum in the MLMS, FFE-CACs will receive an MLMS generated certificate for completing the training. The FFE-CAC would then need to present the certificate to their designated FFE-CAC organization to be considered for certification under the organization’s FFE-CAC agreement.

   ANSWER: If you are a Certified Application Counselor (FFE-CAC) the expiration date is determined as "365 days after training is completed", but you may have additional requirements from your state or designated organization. FFE Navigators should contact your supervisor for assistance.

4. Which entity has the authority to certify me as an FFE assister?
   ANSWER: If you are a FFE Navigator in a FFE you are certified by CMS and by the state in which you are operating. If you are an FFE-CAC, you are certified by your Designated Organization.
